

CIB Annual Conference,
Asia Plateau,
Panchgani 412 805,
District Satara, Maharashtra,
INDIA.

Three years ago, the world faced the worst financial crisis since the Great Depression. While the depression of the 1920s was largely confined to the USA the recent crisis was world-wide. Driven by unbridled greed, powerful vested interests manipulated the policies and systems, which were the main reasons for the crisis. Both the developed and developing countries vowed to take steps to prevent the repeat of such a crisis. Unfortunately the apparent return to 'business as usual' has belied these hopes.

Can we afford to gloss over the ills of the past? 'Caux Initiatives of Business (CIB)' has decided to focus on this challenge during its next Annual Conference.

Is economic growth not possible with fiduciary propriety!
Is it possible for one to prosper and still live by ones values!
Is preserving our environment incompatible with industrial growth!

The Conference will focus on the theme:

MAKING GROWTH SUSTAINABLE -
Balancing Economic Growth and Human Responsibility

Asia seems more than likely to be the growth engine for the coming decade. If we repeat the mistakes of the past the future will berate us for our short-sightedness and greed. Corruption and greed are the major factors for our developmental woes and recent events have brought these concerns to a flash-point. Demands are growing that something is done and done quickly.

The recent horrendous natural calamity which has affected Japan and its people have raised further questions and challenges which need to be addressed and answered.

This year the scope of the conference is expanded. While Plenary Sessions will be addressed by eminent speakers, related sub-themes will be discussed in simultaneous parallel sessions, one or more of which the delegates may choose to attend.

The sub-themes for the parallel sessions will be chosen from:

Sustainable Growth and Eco-system Goods and Services;
Communicating Ethics and Values for Sustainable Growth;
Financial Norms for Sustainable Growth;
Sustainable Growth and Social Responsibility;
Role of the Government in Sustaining Growth;
The Role of Business and Industry in Sustainable Growth;

Caux Initiatives of Business, a programme of 'Initiatives of Change' (IofC) will be holding its Annual Conference in Panchgani, India, between 19 and 23 November 2011. IofC, Japan and IofC, India have decided to work together, for the third time, to focus on the challenges facing us as we emerge from this latest financial crisis. The Conference will bring together members of the Political Elite and Government Civil Service; captains of Business and Industry; members of the Working Class, the Media, Social Services and the Youth of various nations to partake in an honest dialogue to evolve solutions to these challenges.

The Conference will be held in the beautiful and tranquil environment of Asia Plateau, the IofC Centre in Panchgani, Maharashtra, India. Panchgani is a hill station at an elevation of 4,100 ft. The weather is pleasant though light woolen clothes are recommended as are walking shoes. We will be living as a community and boarding and lodging will be provided.
